

Mission C: Raising Cancer Awareness & Driving Change

As the leader of the Mission C campaign, I spearheaded a cancer awareness initiative aimed at supporting the Tata Memorial Hospital. Through a series of school events, we successfully raised over $3500, which contributed directly to cancer research and treatment efforts.

A crucial part of this campaign involved building partnerships with NGOs and local businesses to extend our outreach and amplify awareness. These collaborations not only enhanced the impact of our fundraising efforts but also helped foster a stronger sense of community support for cancer-related causes.

Leading Mission C taught me the value of networking, event management, and rallying others around a common cause. This initiative was not just about raising funds, but about spreading hope and raising awareness on a critical health issue.
